*And the winds are now blowing as I told you that they would.
Who can control My mighty wind?*

My people have become jaded.

(I looked that word up. It means, “My people have become worn out by overwork; fatigued by overwork; exhausted; dulled by surfeiting and excess; tired out by ineffective tasks; dulled and have lost their sharp edge.”)

My people have yielded to the predictable, and they have learned the language of the obvious; but I AM the Almighty God. My ways are past finding out. I will do according to My pleasure. I choose those whom I choose. My Spirit will not continue to strive with unbelief. My Spirit is now breaking out where I find faith and expectancy. I have a people that have not bowed their knee to Baal. I know who My people are, and I know where My people are. I have heard and seen the desperation, and I am overseeing My work in the nations of the earth.

Many have already concluded that My Spirit cannot accomplish what I have directed it to accomplish; but they will stand in absolute disbelief at how sudden and how mighty My presence will overwhelm the obstacles that they have carefully set up to obstruct the moving of My Spirit. This will be a time unlike any other because of the lateness of the hour. It will be swift. It will not be containable. I will take the most unlikely no-names and make them pillars. Those that others have worried about, criticized and deemed unfit, I am now turning to; and I will endow them with supernatural wisdom. I am giving them visions, and they will amaze others because of the abilities I am going to put into them.

I have so many that have turned their backs on My Spirit and My presence, and they have chosen by their own will another way. I will send leanness to their souls, and they will become totally out of touch with what I am doing in these times. Many will not be able to speak into what I am doing because they will not understand it. They will also not be able to withstand My mighty works. Others, who understand, will humble themselves and repent; but many have become so apostate that I am going to remove their candlestick, and their darkness will be great.

As My Spirit moves, there will be little time to chronicle My miracles, signs and wonders. This will be a swift move of God. The miracles, signs and wonders will break out so suddenly and become so widespread that even onlookers and skeptics will confess, "This is unstoppable! Who can stand before such a mighty wind as this?"

Organizations that have disregarded My heart for the lost and have restricted the moving of My Spirit will vanish and be totally forgotten. I will not be contained. I will not be instructed by strangers. Some events and processes that many think I am not a part of, I am right in the middle of; and many events and processes that many think I am a part of, I have nothing to do with whatsoever.

I am not in your darkness. I am in the light, and the light is shining right now in dark places. Revelation is breaking forth. I am now revealing secrets. I am unfolding secrets to My people even now, as of this moment. Mysteries are being made understandable. My sons and daughters will make known their Heavenly Father to this generation.

Healing will no longer be contained. It will break out! As a matter of fact, it will be totally unconfined and will break out in the most unexpected places and in the most unexpected ministries.

Such changes—it will not be possible to keep up with. These are the days that the prophets told you about. You are My vessels. Now is the time to be strong and to be vigilant. Put your body under subjection and allow My Spirit to reveal Himself in you and through you. And finally, remember, it will be extremely difficult to chronicle this move of My Spirit because it is going to be such a quick work, saith the Lord.
